ABSTRACT

In Storey, V. A., Greene, T., & Salgado, L. (2026). Human and AI Editing Tool Use Among Online Professional Practice/Applied Practice Doctoral Students: Implications for Academic Integrity Policies. Impacting Education: Journal on Transforming Professional Practice, 11(3), 40–50, two cited articles named the author, Dr. Jaime A. Teixeira da Silva, incorrectly in the text and in the reference list as da Silva:

In the body of the manuscript:

- Under AI and the Authorship Question, p. 42, first sentence, the correct citation is:
Academic literature exists that debates AI as having authorship (Teixeira da Silva, 2023; Teixeira da Silva & Tsigaris, 2023; Davis & Taczak, 2024; Hosseini et al., 2023), and the idea of naming LLMs as authors is also debated (Hosseini et al., 2023; Hwang et al., 2025)
- Under AI and the Authorship Question, p. 42, second sentence, the citation is:
Navigating authorship when human writers collaborate with LLMs for personalized content poses challenges to who the author is: the human who entered their criteria into the AI tool, or the AI tool itself (Draxler et al., 2024; Teixeira da Silva & Tsigaris, 2023).

In the reference list, the correct citations are:

- Teixeira da Silva, J. A. (2023). Authorship in academic literature. Clinical. Pharmacology in Drug Development, 12(4), 457–458. <https://doi.org/10.1002/cpdd.1234>
- Teixeira da Silva, J. A., & Tsigaris, P. (2023). Human- and AI-based authorship: Principles and ethics. Learned Publishing, 36(3), 453–462. <https://doi.org/10.1002/leap.1547>
